

FRIDAY DEMO'S

WoodWoolWillow - Basket Weaving

all evening

I am a maker.

A carver of spoons

A weaver of baskets

A knitter of yarn

I studied fine art many years ago, but have always used textiles and natural materials to make functional objects. I am now a full-time spoon carver and basket maker since a change of career. If it's not made, it'll be grown on my allotment in South West London - this includes some of the willow and wood I use in my products. I love sharing my skills and meeting people at markets and fairs.

SATURDAY DEMO'S

Lesley Bossine - Feltmaking

12:00 noon

Feltmaking is one of the oldest textile crafts in the world, used in nomadic cultures for centuries as a way to make carpets, boots, clothes and portable homes known as yurts. Today it is also a popular textile craft and Lesley Bossine of FeltLAB will be demonstrating how to wet-felt. Afterwards find Lesley and her work on Stand 45.

Melanie Jordan - Crochet, Knitting & Stitch

13:30

Melanie's practice focuses on thread-based crafts, including knitting, stitching and crochet. Melanie will demonstrate how she combines unfinished knitting projects, crochet and stitch to create 3D sculptures, as well as working on her irregular 'grannie squares'. She will explain a little about her process as she creates, and welcomes questions. Melanie also co-curated the ArtCan exhibition on the stage,

SUNDAY DEMO'S

Madiha Zadi - Needle Felting

10:30

Needle felting is a wonderfully satisfying craft that's becoming ever more popular. By matting wool fibres together using a specially barbed needle, it's a technique that allows you to create a range of 3D objects, jewellery and decorations.

Lucy Sugden - Eco Weaving

14:00

A creative at heart who loves the tactile element of creating art. I have always been drawn to textiles and as a child I enjoyed spending hours creating with textiles crafts. As an adult I continue to play with fibres exploring weaving techniques and possibilities before watching how they play with light.
